

Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (Ancillary Services Operations) Regulations, 2015

Comments from ALSTOM

Making use of the un-requisitioned surplus generation is a laudable exercise. We recommend that CERC considers network storage and demand response as next steps in providing voltage & frequency ancillary services to bring in flexibility to the Grid operator.

These technologies are well proven and can be pooled into the scheduling process by way of a properly designed commitment charges.